

MINERS SHOWED BIG STRENGTH

Tie-Up In The Anthracite And Bituminous Fields Is Almost Complete.

PENNSYLVANIA YIELDS TO THE MEN

Ninety Per Cent Of The Operators Have Granted The Nineteen-Three Scale As Asked

By Miners.

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., April 2.—Not a ton of coal is being mined in Ohio today.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—Indiana operators employing two thousand of the total of fifteen thousand miners have signed the 1903 scale.

New York, April 2.—A conference between the anthracite operators and the miners' committee began at noon. The coal conference adjourned at 2:45 to meet again Thursday afternoon.

According to the official statement given out by the operators, Mitchell and other representatives of the miners occupied most of the time of the conference with speeches. As far as could be learned there was no disposition on either side to accept any modification of the original demands.

Many Signed
Springfield, Ill., April 2.—State President Perry of the United Mine Workers stated this afternoon that so far fifty operators in Illinois have signed the agreement.

Very Complete
Chicago, April 2.—The suspension of coal mining yesterday was even more complete than was expected. With the exception of the Kanawha district in West Virginia, where the miners were permitted to work temporarily, pending the result of a convention with the operators, reports last night showed that practically all the union mines of the country were closed.

In the anthracite fields the miners responded almost to a man to the orders of President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers to cease work. In the unorganized Irwin fields in central Pennsylvania the miners quit and paraded the streets, although most of the operators had posted notices conceding the increase demanded by the union.

In western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa the tie-up was complete. The miners in the southwest district generally obeyed the orders to quit work, and in sections of Kentucky and Tennessee the mines were deserted. On the first day of the industrial battle the United Mine Workers demonstrated their ability to stop coal mining.

Work in Pennsylvania.
Work was resumed in western Pennsylvania this morning. A few of the independent operators, headed by George A. Magoon, refuse to sign the scale, but mine owners representing 90 per cent of the tonnage already have agreed to the demands. Western Pennsylvania, which produces 40,000,000 tons a year, is practically removed from the strike situation.

There are few signs of weakness among the operators. In the other states in the central competitive district. Meetings of the operators' in all of them are scheduled to take place within the next two or three days, but the meetings are rather for the purpose of mapping out a war plan.

QUARANTINE BILL A SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

Williams of Mississippi Makes Strange Motion Relative to the Length of Debate.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, April 2.—The house was today treated to an unusual spectacle. Williams of Mississippi reported a rule from the committee on rules bringing before the house the national quarantine bill with a provision being made by the rules committee that a four hours' debate shall be had on the bill, and that a vote shall be taken at five o'clock. The rule was adopted by a vote of 109 to 32. William Loeb, Jr., secretary to President Roosevelt, was thrown from his horse today, but no bones were broken.

Wanted in Iowa
Des Moines, April 2.—The legislature today forwarded to President Roosevelt an invitation to come to Iowa in August, 1906, to attend the national convention of Philippine war veterans.

APRIL OBSERVATIONS BY THE WEATHER MAN

JACK THE STABBER PLACED ON TRIAL

Writer Who Terrorized Women of St. Louis Several Months Ago, Faces Justice.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—The case of John L. Brady, "Jack the Stabber," was called for trial today. Brady, who was a waiter, created consternation among the women of St. Louis a few months ago, by going about the streets and without any apparent purpose, slashing lone women with a knife, when he met them. His victims numbered nearly a score before he was detected and arrested. It is expected a plea of insanity will be made in his defense.

AMERICAN ATHLETES LEAVE NEW YORK ENROUTE TO ATHENS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, April 2.—A large crowd thronged the North German Lloyd pier today at the departure of the steamship Barbarossa and waved an enthusiastic adieu to the team of athletes who will uphold the honors of America in the Olympic games at Athens this month. The entire team numbers thirty men, but as several sailed for Europe last week there were but twenty-four left to take the trip on the Barbarossa. All appeared to be in splendid health and the best of spirits. The Barbarossa will reach Naples in about twelve days. If the connection with a steamship sailing for Athens is missed the party will be conveyed to the Grecian capital by a warship or private yacht. It is expected the team will reach Athens in time to get in a few days land training before the international competitions begin.

Minnesota Republicans St. Paul, Minn., April 2.—The Republican state committee of Minnesota went into session behind closed doors at the Merchants' hotel today to discuss arrangements for the approaching state convention. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth are bidding for the convention and their relative chances of success are believed to be in about the order named.

Fifteenth Murder in Six Years.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 2.—The fifteenth murder in the mining town of Burnett in six years occurred Monday by the stabbing of Thomas Lindley by Ben Davis in a quarrel over 50 cents.

Work for 700 Men.

Meadville, Pa., April 2.—The Erie railroad shops Monday resumed work in all departments after a shutdown. About 700 men were affected.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Charles C. Deigen of West Farmington, O., who killed R. K. Lewis on Jan. 19, pleaded guilty and was given a life sentence. Lewis was a wealthy farmer.

Judge Day, deciding he has jurisdiction, the divorce case of Mrs. Bassett of Washington, daughter of ex-Senator Rice of Arkansas, will be tried at Omaha, Neb.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bove of Chisholm, Minn., was shot dead as its mother held it in her arms. A stray bullet fired by boys half a mile away entered a window and penetrated the child's skull, scattering its brains over the mother.

The sawmill of Edward Dieffendorf at Chittenango, N. Y., was blown up by a boiler explosion. Edward Dieffendorf, Jr., and Patrick Baker were instantly killed and John Higgins and Jesse Kelsey fatally injured. The boiler was tossed fifty feet through the air.

CITY ELECTIONS HELD IN VARIOUS STATES OF UNION

Chicago and Milwaukee Fights Among Most Prominent on Whole Continent—Socialist Has Chance to Win in Cream City.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., April 2.—City and town elections are being held today in many states, among them Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas, Connecticut, Iowa, North Dakota and New Mexico. In nearly all cases the campaigns have been waged on issues of an entirely local nature. Municipal ownership of public utilities and "reform" policies have probably figured to a greater extent than ever before. In view of the local nature of the contests the result of the election can scarcely be counted on to indicate how the state and congressional elections in the same localities may go this fall.

High License in Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., April 2.—Municipal ownership of the street railways and high license for saloons are the sole issues in the aldermanic elections in Chicago today. The saloonkeepers and the friends of a wide open policy in general are fighting tooth and nail to bring about the defeat of those aldermen who voted in favor of raising the saloon license from $500 to $1,000. The municipal ownership forces are working in favor of the ordinance authorizing the city to issue $75,000,000 worth of Mueller law certificates to acquire a street railway system.

May Elect Socialist Mayor.

Milwaukee, April 2.—The early vote cast in today's municipal election was unusually large and evidenced the feverish interest taken in the mayoralty contest by all classes of citizens. Claims of victory emanate from the headquarters of each party, but to the unbiased onlooker the contest appears to be very close and the result doubtful until the polls are closed and the ballots counted.

In the early stage of the campaign the chief issue appeared to be whether Mayor Rose was to have a sixth term. He had been re-elected so often and so easily that his re-election had come to be regarded almost as a matter of course. But this year he had to combat strenuously for the re-nomination, there being a powerful faction in his own party opposed to him. At the primaries he succeeded in winning out against Brice, his rival aspirant for the democratic mayoralty nomination. This left him to contest for the office with the republican candidate, Sherburn M. Becker.

But the primaries had scarcely been concluded when it became apparent that the situation was entirely different from the original calculation. Instead of being a fight between the democrats and republicans it became evident that the contest was to be a war of the two older parties against the social democrats.

William A. Arnold, the social democratic candidate for mayor, is a union printer, and has behind him a force of 9,000 paying members of the social democratic organization. The socialists declare that they can cast three votes for every member who pays dues, and if their claim is true Arnold is as good as elected. The old parties declare that the estimate of the strength of the social democrats is erroneous, but at the same time it is generally admitted that when the votes are equated Arnold will not be found last on the list. Should he be victorious Milwaukee will have the distinction of being the first city of large size in the United States to have a socialist mayor.

Senate Celebrated Birthday
In Washington Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Edward Everett Hale, the chaplain of the senate, received many congratulations today upon entering his eighty-fifth year. Dr. Hale was born in Boston April 3, 1822, and graduated from Harvard at the early age of seventeen. He entered the ministry and while still a young man won national fame as a pulpit orator. Despite his years Dr. Hale is still vigorous and as active as ever as a churchworker and a writer on many subjects.

Convention, Which Is Being Attended
By Local People, Opened in Milwaukee.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milwaukee, Wis., April 2.—The thirteenth annual convention of the International Kindergarten union was formally opened in Milwaukee today, the sessions being held in Plymouth church. The attendance was large and representative of many parts of the United States and Canada. The program covers four days and is replete with interesting features in the way of discussions and addresses treating of all phases of practical kindergarten work.

STATE NOTES

President David Stan Jordan of Lehigh University, will address the students of the University of Wisconsin today.

A threatened strike was averted at La Crosse by the surrender of contractors to the demand of union carpenters. The scale was raised from 25 to 30 cents an hour and an eight-hour day was agreed to.

Engaged in removing ground which they had been warned not to touch, Charles Jacobson and John Barka, employed in the Baltic mine of Pickands, Mather & Co., in Iron county, Menominee range, were caught by a caving and crushed to death.

F. A. Ogden of Madison, real estate owner, has been sued by B. C. Cooke for $20,000, as the plaintiff's share of the profit in a certain real estate deal in Superior.

Sunday, April 1, was the twenty-first anniversary of the first sermon preached by the Rev. John W. Greenwood as rector of Trinity Episcopal church, Oshkosh.

Albert Kimmer of Maple Grove, 25 years old, who was struck on the head by a falling limb a week ago, is dead. He was a son of George Kimmer.

The lid is to be kept on tight at La Crosse hereafter.

LIMITS REVIEW BY THE COURTS

Amendments To The Rate Proposition By The President Is Before The Senate.

ELKINS IS NOW FOR THE MEASURE

West Virginia Senator Says That The Bill Now Conforms To His Ideas And He Will Vote For Its Passage.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, April 2.—Broad court review for the railroad rate regulation bill refuses to surrender. Monday the friends of the Hepburn-Dolliver measure presented their limited review amendment, designed to meet the objections raised by those who have declared the bill would not be constitutional without some specific provision of that kind.

Things are at sixes and sevens again. Senators who rank as pretty substantial men in the legislative world—some of them lawyers—think that in the amendment decided upon at the white house conference Saturday evening and presented to the Senate by Senator Long of Kansas they have met everything the situation can require, and are prepared, according to indications, to stick to it if there is to be any court review provision at all.

But the two or three senators on the republican side who have been given title as the great constitutional lawyers of the senate are preparing to bring the weight of their legal learning to bear to show that congress must go farther. And the railroad senators—who are not lawyers, and therefore could not tell why the Long amendment, which has the support of original lawyer friends of rate regulation, is needed—are in a state of great perturbation.

Elkins Is Won Over.
Aldrich, Crane and a few more were on the jump all through Monday afternoon's session of the senate. Why they were so scared over the Long amendment and so anxious for the great constitutional lawyers to prove that it isn't enough to make the measure constitutional, must be left to the observer to decide. Senator Tillman, the leader by title in the rate bill, has been so mixed up by the conflicting opinions of the lawyers that he doesn't know where he stands. There is one notable exception in the case of the railroad senators. Senator Elkins of West Virginia, chairman of the committee on interstate commerce, went to the white house Monday to tell President Roosevelt he is thoroughly satisfied with the limited review provision and that it removes his objection to the Hepburn bill. Senator Elkins also has been justifying himself some more by public interview, lest the people of the country clinging to the impression that his interests are with the carriers rather than with the shippers. He denounces the "misrepresenting" of his position before the country and again declares that he wants the awful railroad regulated.

Now that the friends of the Hepburn bill are getting around to what he says he has been contending for all the time, he says it will be a pleasure for him to throw his support where it ought to go.

Senator Elkins' term in the senate expires March 4 next, and between now and then his successor is to be chosen by the West Virginia legislature. West Virginia is very much stirred up over railroad abuses, so much so that its complaints of congress have formed the basis for the investigation which the interstate commerce commission has been charged with prosecuting. Its complaints, however, emanating from its republican governor, were not transmitted to the senate through one of its own senators, but sent instead to Senator Tillman.

Elkins' enemies intimate that he must do something to establish himself as the friend of the people or he will be sidetracked when he comes up for re-election.

THE SOURCES OF WATER IN STATEUNIVERSITY ENGINEERING DE-PARTMENT ISSUES MONOGRAPH.

ARTESIAN SUPPLY IS BEST

River Water Poor, Lake Fair, and

Surface Wells Generally Satisfactory—Other Phases.

Madison, Wis., April 2.—The

Sources of Water Supply in Wisconsin is the subject of an interesting and important monograph in the engineering series of the bulletins of the University of Wisconsin prepared by William G. Kirochetter. The paper describes in detail the sources of water supply of 120 of the leading cities and villages of Wisconsin. It treats of the source of the water supply, and also of such changes in the quality of the water as are caused by pollution with sewage, and of the various means adopted for its purification. Mr.

Kirochetter has made a special study of water supply, and has had charge of the installation of water work systems in a number of Wisconsin cities to which he has been called as consulting engineer. The monograph shows that of the 270 cities and villages of Wisconsin, 120 have been provided with public water supplies. Of this number fifty are supplied with artesian water, thirty with ground water from shallow, open or driven wells and springs, fourteen with lake water and twelve with river water. Of the cities using river water, only six use it for general supply, the others only for fire protection or mechanical purposes.

The ground water supplies seem to be least satisfactory as to both amount and quality of water, although some of them are not as poor as the worst of the river and lake waters.

In regard to the amount of water used from the various sources, lake waters rank first, artesian well water second, ground water third and river water fourth. As to the sufficiency of quantity, lake waters rank first,

river waters second, artesian well waters third and ground waters fourth.

River Water is Unsatisfactory.

Wisconsin cities which use river water for domestic supply are comparatively few. Only about fifteen are using river water for either domestic supply or fire protection. The principal use of river water for domestic purposes is by large interior cities, many of which are located upon the Wisconsin river. All of the sources used for domestic purposes are contaminated to some extent with sewage, and the streams flowing from the forest area are colored, more or less by pine and hemlock. All the streams carry large quantities of sediment in the spring and require purification.

Lake Water Fairly Good.

Of the 2,500 lakes in the state only about six are used for public supplies.

As is quite natural, Lake Michigan and Lake Superior supply more cities and a greater number of people than all of the others combined. Only four cities getting their water supply from lakes filter it before use. The others draw the water directly from the lake without treatment. Lake Michigan the conditions for a pure supply are much better than Lake Superior, because of the position of the bays of Lake Superior and the drainage into them. The waters of the great lakes, of course, are pure at a considerable distance from the shore, and it is only the local contamination along the shore that makes it necessary to purify them.

Artesian Wells Best.

Of the 120 Wisconsin cities with public water supplies, fifty obtain water from artesian wells. According to the usual standards of purity, all artesian well waters are good. The general objection to them is the hardness of the water. The geographical distribution of hardness of Wisconsin waters has been found to follow that of the surface distribution of the limestone rocks. The hardness is of two kinds, permanent and temporary. The former is caused by the presence of calcium and magnesium sulphate, and the latter by the carbonates of calcium and magnesium. These salts are dissolved by the water in running through or over the rocks or through the soil containing decomposed limestone. The hardest waters are found along Lake Michigan, where the limestone formations predominate in area, and are also greatest in thickness.

In Wisconsin the main sources of artesian water are the Potsdam and St. Peters sandstones. Some good flows are found in the Niagara limestone, and occasionally in the Trenton limestone. In general an artesian limestone supply can be obtained anywhere south of the general outcrop of the Potsdam sandstone. A flow at the surface may be secured in most of the river valleys in this area, and especially in the true of the Mississippi, Wisconsin, Rock, Fox, Kicka-poo, and Baraboo river valleys, and along the shores of Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. From the data secured from a large number of wells, it has been determined that the water will rise in most localities to a level of 330 feet above sea level, or 250 feet above Lake Michigan.

Ground Waters Fair.

Ground or surface waters are for the most part fairly good, though not so pure from a sanitary point of view as artesian waters. Nearly all of the supplies of ground water type are either from developed springs or from large open wells. There are very few from shallow wells which have been dug or drilled. These are used usually in rural districts and small villages. The form of shallow well which is used in some small villages in the country is the driven well. This form of well is generally employed where there is a considerable area overlaid with a bed of water bearing sand or gravel at no great distance below the surface, conditions which would be found along many rivers and about some lakes. Few sources of this kind have been developed in Wisconsin. Seventeen towns and cities are supplied by springs and large open wells. While poorer in quality than the artesian waters, these ground or surface supplies are often better than lake or river water, but they are often insufficient in quantity.

Supply of Each City and Town

The monograph presents a detailed discussion of the history, development and present conditions of the water supply of 120 of the cities, towns and villages in Wisconsin, and therefore constitutes a valuable hand-book of information on this topic. It also takes up in detail from a scientific point of view the geological conditions related to water supplies. There is a series of plates, diagrams and tables which illustrate very well the conditions of water supply.

The opinion seems to be gaining ground that the county must look to Milton Junction to Miss Burrington and Mr. Hinkley to save the day against Janesville.

A Clinton subscriber said yesterday that "that was the way it looked to him." "I'm going to hold my votes," he said, "until I can get some idea of the wind-up and then if my town can't win I'll feel like making them count for some of the towns that can win."

If this kind of sentiment should become general during the closing days it would mean thousands of votes for the Milton Junction candidates to help them in the plucky efforts they are making to win.

But it has all along been apparent that it is from some of Janesville's neighboring towns that the surprises are to come if the bulletin indications are so be greatly changed during the last days.

As one of Janesville's candidates pointed out recently, more votes could be secured in a week in either of two or three of our nearby towns than could be secured in a month's campaign in Janesville, especially if they were to unite upon one or two candidates in each of the towns. There were more certificate votes, issued to

REGULATIONS.

The voting in the Gazette Diamond Contest will be by ballot, clipped from regular issues of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette and by voting certificates issued by subscription receipts to The Gazette.

Ballots clipped from The Gazette will count one vote each for the persons named thereon when voted in conformity with these regulations within one week of date of issue.

Voting certificates will bear no time limit and may be retained and voted at any time during the contest at the will of the holder. They will be issued with subscription receipts to the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette as provided by the following subscription table.

Votes will be received and counted only when cast for members of a church, fraternal, labor, social or other worthy organization holding meetings in Janesville or Rock county.

Votes will not be accepted for employees of The Gazette office and votes cannot be transferred after they have been once voted and included in the returns.

Ballots must be clipped from regular issues of The Gazette, and no extra copies of this paper will be printed during the contest for the sake of the ballot contained therein.

The trophies to be voted for consist of two diamond rings, one for a lady and one for a gentleman, each valued over $100, and two silk society flags, each valued at $50.

The Gazette diamonds are to be awarded to the lady and gentleman having the largest number of votes at the close of the contest and the flags to those having the second largest number, for presentation to the society or organization which they may select.

A committee of representative citizens will be named to canvass the vote at the close of the balloting and make the awards.

The polls will close at 7 o'clock p. m., Saturday, April 14.

CASTORIA

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

ed that this great bank had become so powerful that it threatened to control the government. Instead of the government controlling it, it was charged that it exercised a powerful influence in politics and was even a corrupting force. Jackson made the overthrow of the United States Bank the great policy of his administration, and it is a notable fact that while he had the support of the people and of the House of Representatives, in this fight, he met with the determined opposition of the United States Senate, just as Roosevelt has in his fight for government regulation.

It was charged by Jackson's administration that the bank had its representatives in the Senate just as it is charged now that the railroads control many of the United States senators. Webster, Clay and Calhoun for years kept up an unrelenting opposition to Jackson, and with such little success that it is said that at one time Webster and Clay, wearied with the contest, actually contemplated retirement from public life.

When Jackson withdrew the government deposits from the bank, the country was thrown into a state of excitement such as it has rarely, if ever experienced before or since. The effect upon the business of the country was almost startling. It amounted to the proportions of a financial panic, and petitions began to pour in to congress from all parts of the country urging that the action of the President be rescinded in order to save the country from financial ruin. In presenting one of these petitions, Webster made one of his great speeches, in which he described the deplorable business conditions resulting from the President's policy. In reply to this, Senator Benton, of Missouri, who was a warm supporter of the President, and whose speech may be found in his famous "Thirty Years View," showed that exactly the same disturbance and exactly the same agitation had occurred in 1811, when the question of renewing the charter of the United States Bank was before the country. Benton's argument was that the distress in the money market was the result of the deliberate manipulation by the United States Bank, with a view of frightening the people into continuing its charter and its power. This incident is of interest now in view of the suggestions which have been made that the financial interests which are opposed to President Roosevelt might attempt some such object lesson at this time in order to compel the President to abandon his policy.

There is no question in the minds of the state politicians that the coming campaign will be a warm one. There is a chance that the many insurance investigations may yet work a reform in management of affairs. It will soon be the time for the files and screens and then the cold dreary days of a snowless winter will be over. It is lucky the coal strike comes now so that it can be adjusted before winter comes again and not at the outset of a long cold season.

at Waterbury today to discuss the situation. The first of the state political conventions is to be held at that of the Indiana republicans, who will meet in Indianapolis next week for the nomination of candidates for offices to be filled at the state election this fall.

PRESS COMMENT.

In That Sort of Towns. Racine Journal: As glorious Fourth of July draws nearer the demands for a quiet Fourth are heard with insistence.

Vindication. Chicago News: Vegetarians will probably crow a little when they read of the contended miners who lived twenty days on hay.

Wisconsin Survived It. Exchange: The New York senate has killed the bill making race-track betting a felony. There were fears that it would depopulate the state.

The Muse Deserts Fond du Lac. Sheboygan Journal: Fond du Lac has dispensed with its May musical festival and will get along this year with the bull frog concerts in the Winnebago marshes.

Something Still Lacking. Exchange: Sarah Bernhardt has not as yet, however, attempted to give "Camille" in three separate and distinct rings at one and the same time.

The Chicago Situation. Chicago Chronicle: If it were not for the seething support of Lawson's newspapers the socialistic schemes of Hearst's newspapers in this town would not stand much show.

Meaning Dunn Ballot Referendum? Marinette Eagle-Star: Monkey language is to be introduced in the Chicago university. Monkey business will continue to be studied in the state legislatures of the country.

Three Times Saved. Milwaukee Journal: La Follette is in the thick of the "final battle" for the Indians. He will have saved their lands for them, at least three times, if he is successful now.

Radical to Be Conservative. Exchange: Before long, at this rate, Editor Bryan will be caught in the act of shoving Prof. Grover Cleveland out of the Chair of Conservative Democracy and calmly taking his place.

Bets Favor Rose. Exchange: Posted bets at Milwaukee offer odds on the reelection of Mayor Rose. At the same time it is not always safe to depend too much on the betting odds.

The Kind of Friend Elkins is. Chicago Tribune: O, yes, the Hon. Steve Elkins is a friend of the rate regulation bill. "Art thou in health, my brother?" affectionately asked Jobb just before he stabbed Amasa under the fifth rib.

Farson Speaks. Chicago Record-Herald: John Farson, the Chicago banker, is credited with having said: "A millionaire is a slave." This is true. What is a mere million in these days? A man must have at least twenty million before he can even be considered "well off."

Oh, Well, Now, Really. Oshkosh Northwestern: The Janesville Gazette suggests: "Why not boom John C. Spooner for president in 1908, as Roosevelt says he does not want it?" Oh, well, as a matter of fact, there is no particular hurry about this matter, the people are keeping track of events and will pick their man when the proper time comes.

Adjective Unnecessary. Oshkosh Northwestern: It is announced that Senator La Follette is preparing a "drastic" bill for the regulation of freight rates, and will offer it as a substitute for the measure now pending before congress. But why was it necessary to specify the bill will be "drastic," considering that it is being prepared by Senator La Follette?

Stork Visits Often Too Often. Superior Telegram: The Oshkosh Northwestern has no fears about race suicide and thinks it a misfortune "for a child to be one of many children in a home where the principal occupation of the mother is the receiving of visits from the stork" unless the parents have money enough to properly maintain such an expensive proposition.

As To Damming the Rock. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Sam Davis is to be given the right, by congress, to dam the Rock river, in Illinois. There have been times, in his campaign, when "Uncle Joe" Cannon has dammed the Winnebago, the Vermillion and the Kankakee, all classic Illinois streams, without permission of congress. It is now some years since Representative Fowler of Hardin county made heroic efforts at Springfield to have the Crow river, in his district, declared unnavigable, as a means of getting it bridged. His failure has made that mighty tributary of the Wabash dammed by everybody since, without the consent of congress, and even in defiance of the Illinois legislature.

The Red Man's Last Roll Call. Atlantic Monthly: Like the Moorish king Abu Abdallah looking mournfully backward at his lost Granada, Gerontimo from Fort Sill gazes westward across prairies and hills to the Arizona of his great days which he will not see again. Up at Pine Ridge agency the Sioux nonagenarian Red Cloud, the most famous of living Indian warriors, who could tell as many marvelous as Aeneas told to Dido, refuses to accept the government's offer of an allotment of land and goes down like Dickens' Steerforth in the storm at Yarmouth, waving his hand defiantly in the face of destiny. Most of Hercules' labors looked light, compared with the task which the late Henry L. Dawes undertook when he and the commission created under the law of 1893 started out to induce the Cherokees, the Creeks and their neighbors to allot their lands to their members as individuals, to abolish their tribal government and to merge themselves in the mass of the country's citizenship. That work has been grandly finished. The last councils of the Five Tribes have been held. The epic of the American Indians has closed.

Woman vs. Lady. Milwaukee Journal: It is very peculiar that while real ladies are proud to be called women, the mere women are very insistent upon being called ladies.

Perhaps if in common custom the remaining in the two words could be reversed, everybody would be satisfied. Then every member of the gentle sex would be a lady, but not every lady would be entitled to the higher name of woman. When employed with the intention of respect, "woman" is more honorable than "lady," just as Lincoln's "He looks like a man," applied to Whitman, was much more a compliment than "He looks like a gentleman" would have been. Take the quotations "One that was a woman, sir," and "A perfect woman, nobly planned," change the word woman in each to lady, and see the lofty meaning crumble to commonplace. What person of any delicacy of feeling could think of the mother merely as a lady? The deep, sweet love that sets the heart thrilling is inspired only by the noble, soul-rooted qualities of woman.

What young man loves his sweetheart merely because she is a "lady"? She may be a "saleslady," or a swell "society lady," but man's heart loves to respond to the woman in her.

Yet it is possible for the sweet old word "woman" to be used contemptuously, as the conceited lawyer probably employed it.

When an odious male person, filled with a sense of his own grandeur, begins a remark to a person of the opposite sex, "Now, my good woman," he is justified in taking offense. It is not the word "good" or "woman" that is offensive, but the flavor of deprecation.

It takes a real man to appreciate a real woman and to use the word in a way to make it express the honor that attaches to it.

Defiling Other People's Air. Minneapolis Journal: The Nebraska supreme court has handed down a decision on Nebraska's anti-cigarette law, which was tested in the courts by a young man arrested on the charge of rolling a cigarette. The effect of the decision is to sustain the law in general, making the sale and manufacture of cigarettes illegal, but the rolling of cigarettes by individuals for their own use is not called "manufacturing." It is a pity that the court did not rule on the legality of these single "manufacturers" throwing their byproducts out into other people's air.

JACKSON AND ROOSEVELT.

President and Roosevelt has been often compared by his admirers with Washington and Lincoln, while some of his critics have not hesitated to compare him even with Tyler and Johnson who broke with the parties which elected them and made failures of their administration. But no one has seemed to have thought of comparing Roosevelt with Jackson. Nevertheless there are some points of resemblance between the fight which Roosevelt is making for the government regulation of railroads and other corporations, and the fight which Jackson made against the biggest corporation in his time, the second United States Bank, says the Wall Street Journal.

Some of the very arguments which are now made in favor of government control of the railroads were made then in favor of the extermination of the United States bank. It was charged

BALMY WEATHER FOR ELECTION

LARGE TURNOUT IN ALL WARDS

THE RESULT.

1,379 HAD VOTED AT TWO

O'clock This Afternoon, an Increase of 143 Over Total at the Same Hour Last Spring.

By dispensation of the elements the balmy weather of the year was turned on for the spring election. Overcoats disappeared from the street, the influence of the smiling sun the strident tones which have characterized the fierce ante-election campaigns were softened and mellowed. There were "cappers" for the various candidates out in front of most of the election booths and some of them wore placards in their hats after the manner of ticket speculators. Early this morning placards reminding the people that the judicial fight was a contest of "The Lawyers vs. the People" loomed up large on sidewalks, telephone poles, and occasionally on windows. The sale men passed a roorback in circular form last evening.

Division in Third Ward.
Alderman Elec. W. V. Watt of the third ward was almost as industrious as if his election was a matter of doubt. He drove back and forth to the polls carrying straggling voters who wanted a lift to the little wooden cabin where a machine jingled merrily as it measured out its share of the fate of aspirants for office. The third ward was showing a larger vote than last year, but evidently not enough larger. At ten minutes after two this afternoon when Alderman Watt and his equipage were justly stationed in the center of the business district a tongue of flame suddenly shot up towards the sky almost next door to the third ward voting booth. The department responded and men and women cried delightedly. "The heat of the contest has set the polls afire!" Alderman Watt after a spectacular dash down South Main street reached his lots on Wisconsin street where in a deep gorge to the rear a conflagration was raging in the dried grass, just a moment after the fire wagons. After an impatient broom brigade had quelled the smoldering flames a large number of the multitude attracted to the scene bethought themselves of their duty over at the polling place and went there to roll up the score for the next alderman and his fellow candidates.

Vote in the City.
At two o'clock this afternoon word was received from Indian Ford to the effect that 7 out of every 10 votes in the town of Fulton were being cast for Judge Dunwiddie. Similar encouraging reports came from other sections. The Dunwiddie men concede Judge Sale a large vote in Janesville. At that same hour the total vote of the city was ascertained. It was 1,379, an increase of 143 over the total of two o'clock on spring election day last year. In the second ward, where the contest between Buchholz and Baumann is strenuous, 270 votes had been cast at two o'clock, an increase of 16 over last year. No women had voted in any of the wards as far as could be ascertained.

Two O'clock Totals.
In the following table are shown the totals of votes cast in the wards at two o'clock on the days of spring elections:

	1904	1905	1906
First	196	245	283
Second	226	254	270
Third	219	263	304
Fourth	237	314	350
Fifth	140	160	172
Total	1,018	1,236	1,379

*78 women not included in this number.

Some Grand Totals.
The grand total of votes cast on the day of the spring election of 1903 was 2,332. There was no regular contest for mayor in 1904, but a special election was held in May to fill the vacancy caused by the death of A. O. Wilson. At that time 1,954 ballots were cast, of which J. F. Hutchinson received 987 and the late John Thoroughgood 967. At the regular spring election in April of that year 2,180 votes were cast, of which Fred Burpo, candidate for city attorney, received 1,101 and William Ringer, Jr., 1,088. The total vote by wards at the spring election of 1905 was as follows:

	1st ward	2d ward	3d ward	4th ward	5th ward
	5	7	177	17	0
	466	458	544	612	344
Total	206	2,424

ELECTION RETURNS WILL BE RECEIVED

Gazette Makes Plans To Learn the Vote in the County This Evening.

There is so much interest in the election that the Gazette has made arrangements to secure returns from the surrounding county by telephone this evening and will also have returns on the circuit judgeship from both Green and Jefferson counties as far as is possible to obtain them this evening. Through the courtesy of the Wisconsin Telephone company a direct wire from Milwaukee will be cut into the Gazette office and returns from the Milwaukee election will be received; also other elections throughout the state. As the telephone lines will be very busy with outside return patrons of the Gazette are asked to refrain from calling up the office as much as possible and come to the office where the results will be made public as fast as received.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of a host of friends. The funeral will be from the home at two o'clock Thursday afternoon and interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

SOURCE AND USE OF CITY MONEY

AS SHOWN IN ANNUAL REPORT OF TREASURER FATHERS.

SCHOOLS COST $58,687.18

For Year Ending March 1, 1906—Saloon Paid in $24,500 Fees—Fifth Ward Fund Bankrupt.

Interesting data relating to the source of the city's revenues and the manner of expenditure are set forth in the annual report of City Treasurer James A. Fathers to the city council last evening. The figures are well worth the consideration of all thoughtful and wide-awake citizens. It may be noted that the license fees from saloons totaled $24,500, of which $20,000 went into the general fund and $4,500 into the fire and water fund. The school fund received $381 from $100 paid for druggists' permits went into the general fund. Plines and fees netted the public library $144.05. The balance in the interest account of the city's money is $2,375.60. In shown that the city paid during the year ending March 1, $4,500 of the bonded debt on the new high school; $5,500 on the first issue of city hall and library bonds; $1,920 on the second issue of the same; $1,620.10 on the Garfield school bonds; $1,720 on the Court street bridge bonds. Some of the more important groupings are as follows:

The School Fund.
The balance on hand March 1, 1905, was $8,337.16. Receipts were as follows: city penalties—$381; tuition—$1,320; tax levy—$28,000; from the county—$5,193.29; from the state—$7,910.55; state aid for free high school—$400.22; Rebate on freight—$6.55; Miscellaneous licenses for shows, peddlers, etc.—$199.50; city notes (afterwards redeemed)—$5,000; state aid for manual training department—$250. There was paid out on orders the sum of $58,687.18 and the balance on hand March 1, 1906, was $8,811.50.

The General Fund.
Several sources of revenue to the general fund, such as the two percent fees for the collection of delinquent state and county taxes for 1904, amounting to $638.49, the amount overrun on the tax rolls totaling $491.75, and the collection of back taxes totaling $257.77 nearly pay the salary of the treasurer. Some of the other sources of revenue were: saloon licenses—$20,000; marshal's fees—$169.27; one third of the rent of the municipal court chamber—$333.30; Janesville Street Ry. fee on earnings—$345.34; R. B. & J. Interurban Ry.—$370.53; Wisconsin Telephone Co. taxes—$302.99; Rock County Telephone Co.—$439.24; Rock Co. Farmers' Telephone Co.—$28.69; Tax levy—$10,000. The sum of $4,859.25 was paid out on orders. The balance on hand March 1, 1906, was $9,193.15.

Fire and Water Fund.
The fire and water fund had a balance of $430.16 on March 1, 1905. The tax levy amounted to $15,500. Revenue from the saloon licenses aggregated $4,500 and $350 was received from the sale of horses. There was paid out on orders $20,446.63 and the balance on hand March 1, 1906, was $8,935.53.

When the year began the lighting fund had a balance of $4,405.05. The sum of $12,000 was raised by taxes; there was paid out on orders the sum of $13,007.03. Balance on hand $9,398.02.

The library fund had a balance of $2,454.28 to start with; $4,000 was raised by the tax levy and $144.05 received from fines and fees. There was paid out on orders $4,494.74. Balance on hand March 1, 1906, was $2,003.59.

The bridge fund had a balance of $750.79. The sum of $500 was raised; $814.13 paid out; and the present balance is $436.60.

Ward Funds

The first ward started in with a balance of $559.56; raised $3,000; received from several sources the sums of $100.15 and $59.79; paid out $2,263.15. Balance, March 1, was $1,456.40.

The second ward had a balance of $1,227.50; raised $2,500; received $20.27; paid out $2,679.10. Balance $1,178.06.

In the third ward fund there was a balance of $1,707.27 to start with; $4,000 was received from the tax levy and the sums of $158.09 and $127.55 from other sources. There was paid out $5,311.79. Balance $685.72.

LARGE HOUSE FOR REPERTOIRE CO.

"The Mansion of Aching Hearts" Pleased All Who Attended. Performance at the Myers.

Last evening the Wallack Theatre repertoire company opened a three nights' engagement at the Myers theatre with the presentation of the play "The Mansion of Aching Hearts." The house was crowded to the doors and the company made a very good impression, actors, costumes, scenic architecture, and the play itself proving excellent in every particular. A new bill will be presented tonight.

WILLIAM PETERS IS HELD ON STATE'S PRISON CHARGE

Examination Will Take Place in Municipal Court Tomorrow Morning.
Charged with assault with intent to do great bodily injury, a state's prison offense, William Peters made a request for an examination in municipal court this morning and the same was set for tomorrow morning. It is charged that Peters, while in an intoxicated condition, made an attack on some men who interfered with his bulldog, which had fastened its jaws in the hide of a smaller canine belonging to the proprietor at the old Fredericks Livery on Milwaukee street yesterday afternoon and that they would have been severely injured if Constable Bogardus had not hit him on the head with a piece of wood. Peters left, but returned to hurl two rocks at the heads of those who had interfered with him and a few minutes later Officer Champion dragged him to the lock-up.

= FORTY YEARS AGO =

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, April 3, 1866.—Spring.—The uncomfortable weather which prevailed through March has given place to most mild and genial airs, and the birds are tuning their sweetest songs. Though late in her coming we welcome spring most heartily.

The Election. Up to the hour of going to press the vote in most wards was quite light. It was thought Dr. Palmer would have 80 majority in the Second Ward and about the same in the Third. Of the complexion of the vote in the other wards it is difficult to form much of an idea.

The Great Frost—Great Damage to Railroads.—We have been able to obtain the following particulars:

Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Railroad.—All is right between Milwaukee and Madison. West of Madison there is considerable difficulty, but we cannot get full particulars in consequence of the telegraph lines being down.

On the Monroe Branch there are three or four culverts gone between this city and Brodhead, also one or two small bridges. Between Brodhead and Monroe the road is all right. It will be several days before the "branch" is in running order.

Chicago & Northwestern Railway.—We learn that there is difficulty near Watertown station. Four trains are reported gone out of the large bridge over Rock river two miles south of Watertown. A wrecking train went up last night with the necessary timber, etc., to repair the damage.

P. S.—It will be seen from the following dispatch that the Chicago & Northwestern Road is O. K.

Watertown, April 3d, 10:00 a. m. To George L. Beedle Ticket Agent.

I found the bridge over Rock river two miles south of Watertown but slightly damaged. It is all right now and trains will run regular today.

Arthur A. Hohart, Asst. Supt.

We learn that Gov. Hawley, the successful candidate for governor of Connecticut, has a sister residing in this city—Mrs. R. W. Childs.

Mrs. Childs was for several years a teacher in the Oneida Conference Seminary at Cazenovia, N. Y.

The Meeting Last Evening.—There was a fair attendance at the meeting at the Court Room last evening to prepare for the work at the polls today. An excellent spirit was manifested, stirring speeches were made and an effective working committee for each ward appointed. When the votes are counted tonight we expect the results of the meeting will be apparent.

President Plays Tennis. Opens Season With French Ambassador as His Partner.

Washington, April 3.—President Roosevelt and Ambassador Jusserand Monday opened the tennis season in Washington. For several days workmen have been spreading coal ashes on the White House court and other places working to dry the mud; and when, at 4 o'clock, L. O. Murray, assistant secretary of commerce, and James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations, appeared on the ground, bareheaded and with sleeves rolled up above the elbows, it was evident to the clerks in the upper floors of the state, war and navy buildings that something was doing. Pretty soon the president, in an old black sweater, and a black soft hat, came from the house. With him was the French ambassador in immaculate afternoon wear. But it lasted for only a minute after the preliminary handshaking was at an end. The overcoat was dropped, collar, necktie, coat and vest went the same way and the diplomat emerged from the chrysalis a nervous, slight figure in white shirt, dark trousers and a rust brown soft hat, which he produced from some magic spot. He is said to be the best tennis player in the "diplomatic corps" and played steadily with the president for several months until the weather forbade. He and the president played together the president doing the heavy battery work at the net, while the ambassador covered the back line, and when the government clerks were dismissed there was heavy volleying behind the tall, bairn-covered fence which screens the official game from the sight of passers. The score was not made known, but it is supposed to have been strongly with the president and the ambassador.

Foss of Fair Rates. Washington, April 2.—The greatest fault with the present system of reducing excessive railroad rates is that the courts will not uphold the views of the interstate commerce commission as to what is a reasonable rate. The decisions of the courts are not satisfactory either to the shipper or to the commission," said W. G. Smith of South Dakota, president of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, in his annual address before the commission, which began a convention here Monday. Mr. Smith continued: "No law that does not establish the constitutional right to appeal to the courts will accomplish its object for good. The laws should be strengthened so as to detect and punish offenders and public sentiment should demand punishment for all offenders, of whatever station in life. Congress has done its duty in passing laws, he said, the chief trouble lying in the nonenforcement of the statutes.

Place for Albert Halstead. Washington, April 3.—President Roosevelt has announced another personal appointment. This is Albert Halstead, to be consul at Birmingham, England. Mr. Halstead, who is a son of the veteran newspaper writer, "Mutt" Halstead, succeeds as consul at Birmingham his brother, Marshall Halstead, who has held the position for eight years. The new consul is accredited to the District of Columbia. He came originally from Ohio, but for a good many years has been one of the active newspaper correspondents at the national capital.

Bank Stock Owner Must Pay. Washington, April 3.—A decision upholding the law making the stockholder of a national bank liable for twice the amount of his holding, was Wisconsin Horsemen Plan $5,000 Free For All Pace--St. Louis to Hold Western Amateur Golf Tourney--Morton Talks on Runners.

St. Louis gets the western amateur golf championship this year, the event recently having been awarded to the Glen Echo Country club of that city at the annual meeting of the Western Golf association. The Homewood (Ill.) Country club links at Flossmoor will be the scene of the open championship, while the Osweston club, Lake Forest, Ill., will hold the Marshall Field trophy team competition.

The meeting was the most enthusiastic ever held by the western governing body, twenty-two of the seventy-eight clubs composing the organization being represented by delegates and twenty-five by proxies.

The following ticket was elected by acclamation: President, Phelps E. Hoyt, Glenview; vice president, Colonel George S. McGrew, Glen Echo Country club; secretary, Albert R. Gutes, Calumet; treasurer, Murry Nelson, Jr., Osweston; directors, the officers and Stas H. Strawn, Midlothian; Judge John Barton Payne, Chicago Golf club; J. C. Brocklebank, Edgewater; S. P. Jernigan, Inverness club, Toledo; Sidney A. Foster, Des Moines Golf and Country club.

J. W. Morton, the champion sprinter of Great Britain and Canada, says leg exercises are invaluable for runners.

Morton speaks as follows: "The beneficial effects of leg exercise I am a firm believer in and is the kind of exercise that can be taken indoors or outdoors, either in your office or at your home or at the grounds. On my travels across the ocean I took my leg exercises in my cabin, for I felt

MORTON ILLUSTRATING HIS LEG EXERCISE. confident that if I took such exercise on the deck the passengers would think I had escaped from some asylum.

"The leg exercises, of course, can be followed without instructions, or diagrams. Simply stand on the ball of the foot, working first one leg, and then the other, at the same time keeping the legs and arms in motion, as if one was on the track running. I have never tried the skipping rope, but I have heard many old timers say that skipping the rope was one of the best kinds of exercise for the legs, and in some quarters it is used today. Of course the object would be to exercise the legs and give the muscles of the legs good exercise."

A $5,000 free for all pacing race will be given by the Wisconsin State fair management if the owners of Hazel Patch, 2:02 3/4, and The Broncho, 2:03 3/4, will consent to enter. Wisconsin people think that Hazel Patch is unbeatable and believe another race with The Broncho would draw a tremendous crowd. The fair management is willing to let the race go if these two will enter, although, of course, none of the other free for all pacers in the country will be barred.

In fact, they will be welcomed with open arms, but the people of Wisconsin do not believe that a free for all would be a race, up to its name with out Hazel Patch and The Broncho.

Frank Roth, the catcher whom the Milwaukee baseball club purchased from the St. Louis American league club recently, has accepted the terms offered and signed a Milwaukee contract.

College Athletics.

Michigan's Star Jumper, Claud Pinch--Bill Reid, Harvard Coach, Criticized.

The approach of spring has given college athletics a rousing boom. Track athletes, oarsmen and baseball players are being put rigidly through their preliminary preparations, and the varsity press agents are writing their fingers off in describing the annual crop of phenomons. The fact that but one of every twenty of these "phenoms" is ever heard of in actual competition makes no difference whatever to the scribes.

And incidentally a press agent staff seems to be as necessary to the life of a modern university as a faculty or a president.

versity of Michigan this year is Claud O. Pinch, high jumper, a senior engineer, from Battle Creek, Mich. Pinch has cleared the string at six feet, tying the varsity indoor record.

The Battle Creek man's achievement can be credited to good, hard work. He has been practicing steadily for two years. Last year he seemed eclipsed by Cox, who once jumped six feet. In the Chicago-Michigan meet last spring, he and Cox and the two maroon contestants were tied for the hours, and points were split among the four. With Pinch able to do six feet, Cox just as good and Adams hopping at five feet eleven and a half inches prospects for points in the high jump look good to the Michigan fans.

Ted O'Brien, the hard hitting third baseman of the 1905 University of Michigan champion baseball team, is one of the veterans whose work under Coach McAllister's eye is such that he is looked upon as sure to be picked for the 1906 nine.

The graduate treasurer of Harvard, Roger Ervost, in his report of athletic expenses for 1904-05 somewhat caustically comments on the football management of Edgar N. Wrightington and W. T. Reid, Jr., coaches, last season.

"The surplus of the whole year depends directly on the surplus of the football team," the report says, "and it is interesting to examine in detail the receipts and expenditures of that team."

"The expenses of the team increased from $15,000 to $17,000, but this is accounted for in the increase of $1,800 in the item of travel, which included W. T. Reid's expenses back and forth to California, the amount paid to Wrightington for sums he might have earned as referee and the expense of the New Haven (Conn.) trip because of an extra day at the Pequot club. The saving in the cost of the training table was more than offset by the extravagance in several cases of the head coach in ordering supplies."

AT MEETING LAST EVENING

Ordinance Providing for Five Assessors Introduced--Concession Granted for Carnival at Spring Brook.

Last evening a new plat of the west side river boundary line from the Fourth avenue bridge to the north side of South First and Center streets was filed in the council chamber. Changes had been made near the Milwaukee street bridge, the outer boundary running to the northeast corner of the Rock River block instead of the northeast corner of the bank building. When the ordinance for establishing the line came up for its third reading and passage an amendment was introduced by Ald. Murray providing for the adoption of the line shown in the last profile filed by the city engineer. There was some debate. Ald. Jackson, commenting on the change from the original plans, said that the committee had evidently been influenced to make the alterations by the promises of M. G. Jeffris. These promises had been reduced to writing, he understood, and it was only proper that they should be placed on record. The offer to erect a stone or wooden bulkhead along the line proposed from the old Merzluft mill to the corner of the building and to scrape out the 13 or 20 feet of artificial real estate north of and under the Rock river block to a depth of six inches was read. "Ald. Jackson said that he was one of the dissatisfied minority who did not think it was fair to give Mr. Jeffris 13 feet of ground in the river unless the same gift was tendered property-holders on the east side. He offered an amendment that the line be moved west ten feet. The amendment was lost for want of a second. The ordinance as first amended, establishing the line by the new profile of April 2 but explicitly declaring that in fixing said line the city was not to be understood as conferring any title to property-holders to made land they might possess between said boundary and the original shore, was passed.

Center Avenue Protest George Kastner and fourteen other owners of property on Center avenue filed a protest against the construction of a sewer on that highway during the present season. When the matter came up for consideration before the council Ald. Dulin gave it as his opinion that the signatures on the petition were not bona fide, and that if the council upheld any such protests the sewer system planned for Janesville would never be completed. He moved that the protest be laid on the table and Ald. Fish seconded the motion. Ald. Jackson called for information as to the merits of the question and it developed that this particular sewer was not embodied in the original report of the street assessment committee to the sewer committee but was one of the additions the sewer committee had in view. Inasmuch as the last named committee had not yet reported to the council, Mayor Hutchinson declared that no action could be taken and the whole matter was dismissed pending said report.

Storm Sewer on River Street The special committee appointed to procure a right-of-way for the construction of a storm sewer across the roadway from River street to the Rock river between West Milwaukee street and Wall street, reported that the best terms on which said right-of-way could be obtained included certain objectionable limitations and reservations and recommended that the proposed sewer be laid by way of River street and West Milwaukee street to the present storm sewer in front of the block belonging to F. C. Cook at an additional cost of construction not exceeding $400. The report was signed by F. C. Burpee, C. V. Kerch, and W. H. Merritt. When a motion to adopt was made Ald. Sheridan objected on the grounds that the fourth ward might have to bear the expense of a waterway from which it derived no benefit. Other aldermen answered this objection by stating that this would not necessarily be the case and that at any rate the stipulations as to who should pay for the said sewer would have to be made at some future time. The report was adopted.

Carnival for Spring Brook Announcing that they had formed a carnival exposition association for the purpose of chaperoning J. S. Berger's shows and attractions, W. J. Lawrence, D. B. Young, Nolan Bros., J. C. Nichols, Harry George, and A. H. Hayward petitioned the council for permission to use either the streets of the city or vacant lots, free from any license fee, during the second week of June. The matter was referred to the highway committee, but the whole council considered it at the star-chamber session during the recess. Three of the aldermen objected to the shows coming here on any conditions whatsoever, but the majority were in favor of granting the petition with some modifications. In the open meeting Ald. Murray moved that the Berger shows be given permission to exhibit for one week on vacant lots, the location to be determined by the city marshal and the highway committee, and that they pay to the city a license fee of $25 a day. Ald. Merritt immediately introduced an amendment to the effect that the location of the shows be at the Spring Brook addition. All save Ald. Dulin voted "aye" on this amendment. The original motion as amended was then passed.

Assessor from Each Ward First reading was given an ordinance introduced by Ald. Jackson providing that on or before the first of May each year the city council shall appoint one assessor from each ward, whose duty it shall be to assess property according to law. Orders were introduced and passed, calling upon the street commissioner to lay brick cross-walks on Prairie avenue on the north side of St.

Mary's avenue, on High street on the west side of Prairie avenue; on Madison street on the south and north sides of Jackson street; on Race street on the west side of Jackson street; also to lay tile for an outlet under St. Mary's avenue on the west side of Cornell street. The city engineer was called upon to prepare and file a sidewalk grade for the north side of North street between Academy and Cherry streets. The annual report of the city treasurer, and the reports of the board of education, the municipal court, and the city marshal for the month of March were received and filed. The usual reports on bills were made by the finance committee. The bond of George & Clemons for excavation work in the streets was found in due form, sureties good, and accepted. All of the aldermen were present at the session. Adjournment was taken to Thursday evening when the election returns will be canvassed.

Fish Story Hard to Beat. Here is a fish story told by a British nobleman: An Irishman had caught a big pike. Noting a lump in its stomach, he cut it open. "As I cut it open there was a mighty rush and a flapping of wings, and away flew a wild duck; and when I looked inside, there was a nest with four eggs, and she had been sitting on the nest."

The Wisdom of It. "Dance while you can," says a Georgia philosopher, "but before you take your place in the quadrille just feel in your pocket and see if you have money enough to pay the fiddler—or you may be sure that he'll pass the hat 'round when the dance is done."—Atlanta Constitution.

Tower of Gold. The famous "tower of gold" of Seville, a huge octagon in three stages, was so called by its royal Moorish builders because of its yellow color, which is brilliant in the Arabian sun; and moonshine. It is used as a prison by Peter the Cruel.

Modesty and Greatness. He only is great who has the habits of greatness; who, after performing what none in ten thousand could accomplish, passes on like Samson, and tells neither father nor mother of it."—Lavater.
